

Story 6: What is the State of Food Security and Nutrition in US?

In America, children are suffering from food securities. There are households that are considered below poverty across all income levels suffer from low or very low food securities. As households have high risk of not securing foods, children in those household suffers of not getting foods.

Correlation between Poverty and Low Child Food Security in Household in America

Number of Households under Poverty and Food Security

